Strasbourg, 18.9.2018 11:50 âFastActivate Premium Edition V1 8 8 0 Does anyone have any idea what the images are? Would this all work on the Classic? A: I found a solution which I am going to post here. After months of looking for this solution, I finally found an answer. To activate your TomTom GPS, you need to upgrade it to the latest version of the software (Premium edition) and go through the activation process. It is really simple and takes less than 30 minutes to complete. Upgrading is extremely simple, although a bit tedious. Basically all you do is simply point to the downloaded v1.8.8.0 file and it will start the installation process with the appropriate files (done by copy-pasting). After that you will have to restart your TomTom and make sure to charge your battery, since your device may not start the activation process if it is not fully charged. The first time you do this process, you will be able to select a license key, since this is not an application update. The next time you will have to use the software update, as it is an application update, and you will not be able to upgrade using an offline license key. This is the reason why you will not be able to use the online version of the software update, as there is no offline activation. For this you need to go to your TomTom portal and use the offline activation key. Once the installation process is done, you will be able to access the software from the menu of your GPS. (Look in the Applications for the TomTom 1.8.8.0, which is the Premium edition of the TomTom Navigator software.) This will then pop-up, asking you to activate your device. If you have an online license key, this should be pretty simple, but if you have an offline license key, you will
